

How to Apply for a John H. Drabing, D.O., Osteopathic Medical Student Scholarship

FISCAL YEAR 2022-2023 GENERAL INFORMATION

- Up to five tuition scholarships are available to students entering their third year at an AOA accredited College of Osteopathic Medicine in the summer of 2023.
- Each scholarship is for $10,000 per year, up to a total of $20,000 for years III and IV of medical school as long as the student remains in good academic standing with their College of Osteopathic Medicine.
- Scholarship tuition funds are credited to the student's medical school business office account.
- Applications will be reviewed primarily on merit.
- Applicants with the most potential to become good Osteopathic physicians based on their demonstration of academic achievement, leadership, motivation and service to their community will be selected.
- The Foundation anticipates that its scholarship recipients, upon completion of their medical education will return to practice in Colorado.

ELIGIBILITY

- Only second-year students are eligible to apply for the scholarships (scholarships are awarded to selected recipients for their third year and fourth year if the recipients maintain their eligibility).
- Students who have full tuition scholarships are ineligible (Indian Health Service, National Health Service Corp, Health Professions Scholarship Program – Army, Navy and Air Force, other sources).
- Applicants must be enrolled at an AOA accredited College of Osteopathic Medicine (Documentation of College of Osteopathic Medicine admission is required).
- Only residents of Colorado, or those with a solid Colorado connection such as family living in Colorado, or attended school in Colorado prior to medical school are eligible to apply, with preference given to residents of Southern Colorado.
- Students must be U.S. citizens.

REQUIREMENTS

- Applicants MUST have their medical school submit their quartile and transcripts and if available their class ranking and grade point average for the first three semesters, plus their Medical College Admission Test (MCAT) scores from time of application to College of Osteopathic Medicine.
- Applicants MUST submit a list of the clubs and organizations that they belong to during medical school and their community service.
- Applicants MUST submit an essay stating why they want to be an osteopathic physician, where they see themselves professionally 10 years from now, their intention to return to Colorado to practice medicine, and their history of having lived in Colorado (or their family's history).
- Applicants MUST submit a curriculum vitae including extra curricular activities in the interim time between undergraduate and medical school.
- The scholarship recipient MUST keep the Foundation informed of address changes and status while enrolled in school during the period of funding and throughout residency.
- Tuition Scholarship recipients MUST give the Foundation's Executive Director permission to contact their college of medicine to ensure that they are still in good standing prior to releasing funds for the fourth year.

SKYPE or ZOOM Interviews

- > Will be conducted between select medical student applicants and the scholarship committee. No telephone only interviews will be granted.
 - > Selected applicants will be assigned a specific interview time.
 - > Students must register online with SKYPE or ZOOM and then start an account if SKYPE or ZOOM is used for the interviews.
 - > Students should contact the Foundation one week prior to the interview and ensure that their SKYPE or ZOOM account is active and working.
 - > The interviews should last approximately 15 minutes each
- Award recipients will be notified by phone and mail in May.
 - Tuition scholarship payments will be made in two increments per year. $5000 will be sent to the school's business office in July and December.

WITHDRAWAL POLICY

- If a scholarship recipient withdraws from school permanently, the scholarship converts to a five year loan at 5% interest per year. Scholarship recipients are responsible to repay the Colorado Springs Osteopathic Foundation under the terms defined by the Foundation. Exceptions to this policy may be granted at the discretion of the Foundation.
- If a scholarship recipient is granted a leave of absence from their school for medical or other reasons, the Foundation will hold the un-awarded balance of scholarship funds for up to one year from the date of the leave approval. The student must return to school within one year in order to retain the scholarship.
- Conditions of leave and withdrawal are subject to the individual school policy.
